SPRING MEETING

MAY 11-13, 2020 • ONLINE EVENT

The Virtual Spring Meeting will leverage the same platform as the award-winning 2019 CAS InFocus Virtual Seminar, which was recognized with an award for excellence in e-learning programs by Association Trends. The CAS has prepared these slides to give attendees a snapshot of the platform, which will enhance your professional education and meeting experience far beyond a typical webinar.

Lobby

After logging into the event you will be taken to the Lobby area. From the Lobby, you can visit the main areas of the event by clicking on the listing or utilizing the navigation bar.

“It was a very positive experience. The platform was very impressive, including the virtual activities you could explore.”

- Jay Gotelaere, Executive Vice President – Global Risk Consulting Commercial Risk Solutions at Aon

Theater

Navigate to the Theater tab to view the sessions and demos, live and on-demand. By clicking on a session, you will see more detail on content and speakers.

“Three things I enjoyed about the event were the content, the presenters, and the attendees. The decentralized learning environment challenged presenters to find inventive ways to engage with the audience and vice versa. During our session, we conducted live polls with minimal preconceptions regarding how the audience might respond. Their sometimes-surprising answers helped turn the presentation into an interactive conversation we hoped for.”

- Jim Weiss, Assistant Vice President at Crum & Forster

The screenshot shows the 'Theater' section of the CAS Spring Meeting website. The navigation bar includes 'Lobby', 'Theater', 'Exhibit Hall', 'Resources', 'Games', 'Badges', 'Lounge', 'My Profile', and 'Help'. The main content area is titled 'Welcome to the Theater' and features a list of sessions. The selected session is 'LARGE SCALE, LARGE IMPACT RISKS YOU LIKELY WON'T SEE COMING', scheduled for 10/01/2019 from 10:00AM to 11:30AM. The session description includes a 0.0 rating and a comment: 'For decades, many professionals and their professional organizations, have been claiming that they cannot forecast (predict) the future, especially not large-scale, large-impact events, and then regularly proving it - missing BREXIT, backlash to globalization and the rise of populism and their leaders, and so forth. Simultaneously, ever-better technical tools have not found ever-better humans on the receiving end capable of assessing outputs. This conversation addresses, via two exemplars, how to better learn holistic assessment, discusses the approach of "profiling change processes" to actually help you see and foresee large-scale, large-impact event emergence within its various specific contexts, and discusses elements of qualitative-quantitative interface "best practice" judgment and how to build it. Last, it makes a claim about what professional organizations might do to stay relevant (and highly paid) in a populist universe. The purpose is explicitly to improve professional practice and standards via this - and similar - conversations and to challenge, in a positive way, the claim that large-scale, large-impact events are unpredictable.' Learning Objectives: are listed below the description.

Exhibits

By clicking on the Exhibits tab on the top navigation, you will be taken to the Exhibit Hall, where you can visit booths, download/view content, and engage with booth staff.

“The virtual exhibits were a cool feature and the virtual networking was a good idea..”

- Joe Izzo, Senior Vice President, Insurance Programs Operations at ISO

Resources

The Resource Center is your digital library to browse content by subject across the different areas of the event. Select the content for immediate viewing or save to your briefcase for review or download at your convenience.

The screenshot displays the CAS Spring Meeting Resource Center website. The top navigation bar includes links for Lobby, Theater, Exhibit Hall, Resources, Games, Badges, Lounge, My Profile, and Help. A search icon is also present. On the left, a sidebar menu offers options for Home, Filter, Daily Schedule, and three days of content: DAY 1 – EMERGING RISKS, DAY 2 – ADVANCED ANALYTICS AND THEIR BARRIERS, and DAY 3 – THE FUTURE ACTUARIAL WORKPLACE. The main content area features a large blue header with the CAS logo and the text 'RESOURCE CENTER'. Below this, a 'Newly Added' section lists three PDF documents: 'Daily Schedule' (dated 09/25/2019), 'THE BIONIC ACTUARY: FAST, CONNECTED AND IN SIGHTFUL' (dated 09/25/2019), and 'ENSEMBLES AND COMBINING MODELS'. Each document entry includes a 'View' button, a 'Save' button, a star rating system (currently 0/0), and a prompt to 'Be the first to write a comment'. A 'Sort By' dropdown menu is set to 'Date'. The background of the website shows a modern interior with people sitting at tables.

Help Desk

The Help Desk is available for any technical support issues you have while interacting in the virtual event. There are helpful resources available to you such as guides, FAQs, and support documentation to aid in troubleshooting support requests.

Lounge

The Lounge is a great place to communicate and network with attendees, speakers and sponsors.

“The virtual chat was my favorite feature and I encourage others who partake to do more “networking” since it’s the best way to participate. Find some folks after a presentation and ask them what they got out of it. Make a connection or two!”

- Steve Armstrong, CAS President
