2. Tenure. The chairperson of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee serves for one year. The service year is normally from annual meeting to annual meeting, unless specified to be otherwise by the Executive Council. An incumbent may be re-appointed annually and serve for up to three years.
3. Accountability. The chairperson of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee accountable and reports to the Vice President- Research and Development.
4. Duties. The broad function of the chairperson of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee is to manage the activities of members of the Committee for the purpose of achieving the mission of the Committee as published in the Committee charge :

The Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee is focused on financial reporting and the areas of actuarial work supporting the preparation, audit and analysis of financial statement data. The committee's charge includes monitoring the status, changes and emerging issues in financial reporting, as well as research, models or practice methodologies used by actuaries in the preparation or analysis of financial reports for property/casualty and general insurance companies, as well as other similar risk sharing or risk pooling mechanisms, including programs run or sponsored by government. This committee will provide research and studies around changes in financial reporting standards or practices, differences in those standards or practices across jurisdictions, uses of internal and external financial data by actuaries, and practical methods or models needed by actuaries who are involved in supporting financial reporting. Other topics for this committee may include related areas of actuarial research or practice, such as asset/liability analysis, investment analysis, or actuarial valuation of blocks of business or an insurance company.

The duties of the chairperson of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee fall into two categories: those that are common to all committee chairpersons, and those that are specifically related to the work of this Committee.

Common Duties:

- a. Manage the membership of the Committee in accordance with the guidelines set forth in the Committee Chairpersons' Manual. Recruit new members utilizing the annual Participation Survey and other sources. Submit welcoming and appreciation letters to new and retiring members, respectively.
- b. Present to the Committee at the beginning of the term as chairperson what two – three new research initiatives will be explored during the term. The new research initiatives need not all be managed by the Committee. They may have one "champion" on the Committee who will lead it and then enlist the appropriate volunteers. These initiatives should follow this priority: (1) Funded research; (2), establishment of working parties; and (3), call papers that are focused on a particular problem.
- c. Prepare quarterly cycle reports for the Vice President- Research and Development detailing the goals of the Committee for the coming year of service. These will be completed in one year and should align with the CAS Strategic Plan's Research Goal.
- d. Prepare (annually) and submit to the CAS Office the Committee's budget requirements for the coming fiscal year of service. These requirements will be reviewed by the Finance Committee and approved by the Executive Council.
- e. Prepare (quarterly) a brief "actual vs. goals" report and submit to the Vice President-Research and Development through the Committee's quarterly cycle report for incorporation in the Vice President- Research and Development's quarterly cycle report to the Executive Council.

- h. Provide support to other Society committees as requested.
- i. Work with the Committee Vice Chairperson, once selected, to prepare the Vice Chairperson to assume the position of Chairperson in one year. This also includes informing the Vice Chairperson of expectations related to new research initiatives.
- j. Assign tasks to Committee members or subcommittees so as to achieve the agreed upon goals for the year.
- k. Monitor the work of Committee members to ensure that progress towards goals is being achieved as planned.
- l. Monitor the staffing of the Committee to assure that the resources are equal to the task and report any imbalances with the recommendations to the Vice President-Research and Development.
- m. Attend the annual CAS Leadership Summit.
- n. Perform other duties as may be assigned by the Vice President- Research and Development.

Specialized Duties:

- a. Identify areas where the application of valuation, finance and investment principles and techniques needs further research.
  - b. Develop and maintain a statement of valuation principles.
  - c. Consult with appropriate Society committees or members to stimulate new papers on valuation, finance and investment principles and techniques.
  - d. Contribute to improvements in the financial management of U.S. property/casualty companies regarding solvency risks.
  - e. Review papers for appropriateness of study and make recommendations to the Syllabus Committee.
  - f. Coordinate with the Society of Actuaries, the American Academy of Actuaries, and other organizations to assure that the concepts of valuation, finance and investment principles and the techniques used are consistent with the interest of the Casualty Actuarial Society.
  - g. Address any ongoing changes to the proposed International and US accounting standards for insurance.
  - h. Provide feedback to the Academy of Actuaries as it prepares its formal comments on these changes.
  - i. Educate CAS membership on any changes.
  - j. Generally do all that is necessary to assure that the mission of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee is carried out effectively.
5. Authority. The chairperson of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee has the authority to act as required to effectively carry out the mission of the committee except:

- a. Authorize expenditures on behalf of the Society without approval of the Vice President- Research and Development unless they are included in the approved CAS budget.
- b. Enter into contract on behalf of the Society without specific authorization from the Vice President- Research and Development.
- c. Unilaterally launch a Committee activity not clearly within the Committee charge.
- d. Unilaterally set passing grades for any examination.

The chairperson of the Financial Reporting and Analysis Committee is charged with exercising sound judgment in the conduct of the business of the Committee. Whenever a question arises where authority/responsibility is not clear, the chairperson is expected to consult with the Vice President- Research and Development in advance of exercising any of the available options.

6. Miscellaneous. In the event of the unavailability of the Vice President- Research and Development to answer questions, consult on problems, etc., the chairperson should refer the question, problem, etc. to the attention of the President-Elect, then the President in order of availability.
