

Meet the Ratemaking, Product and Modeling Seminar Working Group (RPMSWG)

Overview

The Ratemaking, Product and Modeling Seminar Working Group plans one of the organization's five annual signature events, producing a valuable and focused continuing education opportunity for CAS membership at large. The working group is comprised of a diverse group of actuaries with the common goal of providing seminar attendees with a superior educational experience. The group leverages the varied backgrounds of its volunteers as they continually work to provide relevant seminar topics on ratemaking, product innovation, modeling, professionalism, and regulation in new and creative ways.

How does the RPM Seminar Working Group support the CAS Strategic Plan?

The RPM Seminar Working Group provides opportunities for members to engage with their peers in educational opportunities that build our profession's collective skills.

“We enjoy volunteering for the RPM Seminar Working Group as it gives us the opportunity to collaborate with actuaries across the industry while also developing the framework for actuaries to build and enhance their desired skillsets. The RPM Seminar Working Group inspires and motivates us to stay current by networking with fellow working group members as we plan outstanding education for our peers!”

Staff Chairperson

Leanne Wieczorek
Staff Chairperson

“We both enjoy working with the RPM Seminar Working Group to offer opportunities for attendees to expand their knowledge on various topics through the lens of Subject Matter Experts. We collaborate to facilitate engaging continuing education within dynamic settings. What is super rewarding is working with some of the most creative and dedicated volunteers in the profession. We treasure our RPMS WG members!”
