

Meet the International Member Services Working Group (IMSWG)

Overview

The IMS's purpose is to maintain and enhance the connection between the CAS and its international members. By working in conjunction with the international regional affiliates, learning more about member needs, and engaging in member outreach, the IMS aims to increase international members' connection to and involvement with the CAS. In addition, members of the IMS have the opportunity to partake in research projects and other ad-hoc work in support of the "Expanding Globally" pillar of the CAS's Strategic Plan.

How does the International Member Services Working Group support the CAS membership?

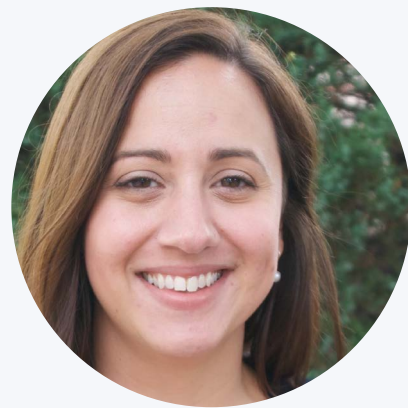

IMS members are highly invested in ensuring that CAS members outside of North America feel well supported and closely tied to the CAS community. In the past year, this group helped coordinate member gatherings in London and Hong Kong, as well as researched opportunities to strengthen CAS's presence in key international markets and enhance the value of our affiliate membership. Additionally, members of this group regularly step up to provide an international perspective on a wide variety of projects and micro-volunteering requests coming in from across the CAS.

From the Chairs

“Volunteering for the IMS has been a great experience and has allowed me to collaborate with many bright and passionate actuaries across the globe! I spent many years working abroad and it has been rewarding to give back to the profession – in particular to other actuaries working internationally. I also enjoy getting involved in various research projects in support of the “Expanding Globally” pillar of the CAS Strategic Plan.

—Keith Berman, Volunteer Chair

“The IMS is currently comprised of members working in 17 different countries around the globe. It's been such a rich experience to bring together people working in very different cultures and contexts around a common goal of strengthening the CAS global community. This group is highly collaborative, inquisitive, and diverse, which I find very inspiring.
