

Meet the New Members Working Group (NMWG)

Overview

The New Members Working Group is responsible for effectively integrating new members into the CAS and ensuring new member perspectives are considered.

How does the New Members Working Group support the CAS Membership?

The overall goal of the New Members Working Group is to create a positive and inclusive environment where New Associates and Fellows feel comfortable, empowered, and motivated to contribute to the CAS's success. By establishing strong connections and providing necessary resources, the working group plays a vital role in the long-term engagement of new members.

From the Chairs

“The New Members Working Group has the privilege of helping the CAS's newest members celebrate their amazing accomplishments. We are a dedicated resource for new members to learn about the requirements and opportunities that come with CAS membership, while at the same time incorporating feedback from new members to help ensure the CAS provides the best experience possible.

— Ben Markowski, Volunteer Chair

“I enjoy working with the NMWG because it's made up of a group of enthusiastic volunteers who want to provide support and guidance to new Associates and Fellows, facilitating a positive member experience from the very beginning. Working with new members is rewarding because I get to help new Associates and Fellows understand their role within the CAS and become more engaged in the community.

— Shelby Wolff, Staff Chair

Who is the NMWG?

The NMWG reports to the CAS Marketing and Communications Advisory Council.

Ben Markowsk, Volunteer Chair

- Kevin Blessing
- Neb Bojer
- Yingying Chen
- Michael Henk
- Kenneth Hsu
- Nitai Patel
- John Potter
- Rebecca Reich
- Yeshaya Rosner
- Noah Williams

Shelby Wolff, CAS Membership and Volunteer Engagement Specialist

Mikey Bevarelli, CAS Membership and Volunteer Engagement Specialist

